Junior Class History

THE class of 1929 came to Middlebury in the fall of 1925 no less verdant than those who came the previous year and no more so than those who came the following September. Although forbidden by "the law" to be seen with a co-ed for the first month, the very first night saw the men of the class bowing en masse before the weaker sex.

Henceforth war! From the hat scrap we emerged victorious, at least as far as the hat was concerned. The baseball game and track meet we also won, and in the spring we took off our peagreens, after wetting the sophomores in the rope-pull. The Freshman play, "The Goose Hangs High," brought out the dramatic talent of the class and since then the class has been active in all Wig and Pen productions.

The Freshman Frolic established the class socially and the Sophomore Hop made our standing even more secure. We are now directing all this ability—dramatic, social, athletic—toward the production of one of the finest Junior Weeks ever given.

"And never spake a wasted word thereafter."

Here's the first of the Utica delegation. These Eastern New Yorkers are sure a quiet lot. However, "Frank" manages to get about and do his studies without anybody's help, which means a lot in these days of terrible assignments. We are left quite in the dark after his smiling countenance has quit our midst and miss him if he's not around.

"Quality, not quantity is the big thing."

During the autumn of the last two years we quite often saw this great big red-headed individual getting up from the bottom of a pile of humanity, still trying to grasp the legs of some elusive football player. "Red" has a propensity for getting to the bottom of things and, after he gets there, he is apt to search out for the thing he is after, whether a man or a problem.

ΔΥ
Rutland High School

Varsity Baseball "M" (1, 2); Interfraternity Basketball (1); Delta Tau; Sages; Varsity "M" Club (2, 3).

"Congeniality then doubled up with mirth."

"Andy," a fair blonde Vermonter, makes his chief avocation congeniality, and his vocation baseball. His ability in either of the before-mentioned things is quite superior to the average, and who knows but that it is superior to the best. Nevertheless "Andy" lives up to his name and turns out to be a quiet, conservative lad—finding little interest in the weaker sex.

EDWARD PATRICK ARMSTRONG

"Still waters run deep."

Edward? Edward? Oh, sure, "Ned." Here is another one of the lads who has come to Vermont to seek out the channels of higher education. "Ned" is one of the kind who emulates the Sphinx or that son of Vermont, Coolidge, for his words are few and far between. Yet the lads from the other side of the lake always turn out well despite their quietness, and who knows—?

"Give the world the best you have and the best will come back to you."

A flash, a bang, a blackened face, and once again Sheldon's pipe was clean. "Newt's" Freshman year was filled with other feats of an explosive nature, but with sophomoreship came many changes: a new room (handballs and jack-knives did for the old one), a new roomie, and an incentive to ride on the Rutland Railroad—south. Coming back, "Newt" travels via the B. & M., C. V. and R. R. (from Burlington). Junior year brought with it a trombone and banjo, y como. Senior year? Well, Commencement is in June, isn't it?

"It's the finest thing in the world to live; most people only exist."

"Fran" says his ambition is to "convert the heathen" and judging from the quiet, unassuming way he goes about things at Midd, we think the "heathen" will be Christians before they know it. We only wish he'd practice a little on the heathen in Starr. Maybe it's because he hasn't time between attending Glee Club rehearsals and figuring how he can keep all his appointments on the other side of the hill. As we get to know him better we are reminded that "still waters run deep" and "beneath this calm exterior lies a heart of gold."

"The night is long that never finds the day."

A sudden hush fell over the crowd and out of the group stumbled "Ed," ready and willing to assail the leader of the peace-making (?) force of the class of '28. That was in Starr. When? Oh, a number of years ago. And from this stumbling acorn a mighty oak arose destined to follow the same leader he had assailed, in a good year of another kind of conflict. Yet this little lad sure does manage to find enjoyment while he is flitting about from here to there—That reminds me—.

"What a mad pace he sets us."

When one considers the fact that he left the environs of Wellesley to come to Middlebury, one must admire the strength of "Freddie's" will power. However, we have noticed that oftentimes he makes visits to the home of the bean; and when he leaves, his face is wreathed with smiles. He is a handy man with his arms, we have found out —that is, in hockey and baseball; but still those visits are a mystery.

"A rut only differs from a grave in depth."

When "Ray" left his native heath to come to Middlebury for the first time, the West Haven Band came in great numbers to see him set off on his promising way. It must have been a good send off, for look at the way he has—cultivated largely since he came to Vermont. His artistic taste has made him one of the Playhouse's needed attendants, and his line has made him a social necessity.

"When you play, play hard; when you work, work hard."

We remember once landing, after a foggy night's journey from New York, in a Bay State hamlet called Fall River. The thought struck us that here was the proper place for a student to come from, and yea, verily, as the years ripened, "Chick" came into our midst. We're no prophets though. This tall lanky lad has a peculiar way of winding his pedal extremities about the—well, you know—of a horse, and then he carries away the field for horsemanship. If his name had been Jesse James, he probably would have been the idol of every youngster's heart.

"Russ" is another one of the great big men from St. Johnsbury, and he is making a valiant attempt to make his mark here at Middlebury. "Let this be a world of friends."

A streak of red—rather faded to the pale glow of sunset—a noisy greeting and "Art" goes on. Whence? Just gaze above. "Art's" chief enterprises are fulfilling literary endeavors and to achieve this end he has been, and is being, cultivated in numerous courses. He knew too much about himself to write this, so you see—well, you just see. Then too, his outside interest must be becoming—not a Don Juan—but one can never tell where aspirations will lead one.

"Whither goest thou, my pretty maid?"

"Ron" is always going to flunk out of college and join the rebels in Mexico or some other Latin-American country, but the way he seems to get around us in marks is monotonous not to say discouraging. Aside from this studious trend "Ron" can be counted on for other things. Track for instance. However, he earnestly requested that the editors not say too much about him as he wanted to send a copy home.

"From Vergennes do I hail. The smallest city in the U. S." Has he not reason to be proud? From behind a pair of shell-rimmed glasses we see his gaze taking in the landscape, with the air of a student, and it's no draught either. For "Chat" fills his time up with scholarly pursuits and too, he is a mean lad with this Daniel Webster stuff. Talented? Rather, for the Glee Club and the Choir are ably supplemented by the tender notes his vocal chords emanate.

It seems that this tall "Ernie" has a passion for publications (including the Campus) and in the summer months he does his bit in this way. New Hampshire State College was the seat of his first collegiate experiences, but the call of the wild was too much for him and here he is.

A hard worker—especially when helping the members of the weaker sex—and his position at the Music House has been very satisfactory to his inclinations, as are his summer jobs at girls' camps. "Ars Gratia Artis"

"Pete" always seems to be out for a good time, maybe one of the essentials that go to make up his artistic temperament, for William Warren, don't be shocked, is an artist. At times it is apparent that studies take up a small part of this man's time, then we think we are disillusioned for, far into the night, we see him poring over his books. This representative at Middlebury from the mosquito state of New Jersey fell into our midst from the insipid class of 1928—We bet he's happy(?)

One morning, very early—2 A.M., in fact—"Mickey" was found playing the role of a trumpeter. Not that this fact has anything to do with his succeeding career, but nevertheless, he was detected by a member of the "higher up." A Math shark, a linguist, a geographer, etc., is what this man is. His aspirations are a dark secret, so dark in fact that there is no light to be shed on them whatsoever. Will Rogers some day will reach his ebb tide, then the brilliance of the scintillating wit of young Harlan will rise up to do bigger and better things.

The class of 1929 was mighty glad to have this man from Rhode Island enter its midst. Although he entered in the middle of last year and had previously been with the class of '26, we feel that he has always been a part of us. His object in college is to take all the "pipe" courses, such as Math, Biology, Chemistry and similar subjects, and with all his outside interests we don't just know where he does spend his time. Perhaps his gentlemanlike qualities have been cultivated on the other side of the hill, as every night we find him over there—at the Recitation Hall.

If one really paid attention in Professor Swett's Geography class, one might hear, in an undertone, the name of Walpole, New Hampshire. Unheralded, unsung, and unannounced, "Jim" swept into Middlebury, and in him we see a true Walpoleite. Fish swim; birds fly; but like soap, the "Kid" floats, which reminds us of the time when, attempting to negotiate Noble's Hill on skis, excellent toothpicks were enjoyed by all.

"Every day is a fresh beginning—."

"Ask the man who owns one." Not an automobile advertisement, but herein applied to a flute, one of which is in the possession of this man. His most difficult task is toting about the long name which was applied to him in the days of his incompatibility. His other tasks are easy, though we are told he found it rather hard to break away from the old home ties and ride over the bumps of a Freshman year. Still the band finds him in full glory piping along over the miles.

During the first semester of the year "Art" was taken ill and was obliged to leave college for the rest of the year. We are very glad to learn that he is planning to return next year. His absence has been keenly felt by the musical clubs and publication boards, but we know that when he gets back he will be glad to assist in every way that he can.

1928—Leap year—Now we know why "Chaunce" has been in hiding for the last few months. Bashful? Maybe! But here's the reason—he spends all his spare time writing letters. He claims these are the assignments of an English Course, but every other person in the class writes essays. The question of what will happen next fall when he takes care of the football team is a serious one—for there will probably be a big deficit in the Post Office Department.

"Be it ever so humble—"

"Jack" has a love for the native heath, round and about Port Henry, which is a deep mystery. He seems to forget that, when he pledged his loyalty to Middlebury in his Freshman year, he was supposed to forget the fair New York city. The mystery resolves itself when we gaze at the pictures he has parked around, and we hope that he will not hold out too long as all good things are bound to come to light some time.

"Friends, Romans and Countrymen, lend me your ears!"

If words were money, "Sam" would be worth a cool million. As a public speaker and debater he is a second Bryan or Webster. Small wonder the administration was so impressed that it added him to the college pay roll so that he could impart his art and knowledge to the less fortunate. But speaking is not his only forte; witness his membership in the Wig and Pen, attesting his dramatic ability.

"Joyous are the busy."

Another member of the "umpa-umpa" group, only "Len" has had the task of supplying the band with places where they could rhapsodize the audience—or what have you? His locks of curly, black hair set off his Grecian profile to perfection, and although we never see him north of College Street, we feel confident that he could manage things pretty well over there, as he has in his end of Starr Hall for the past years. But he's from Rye, and many good things come from Rye.

It was Jascha, no, it was Fritz, who once told us that it was time to learn of one of our silent classmates. "Jim" has the appearance of a full-fledged artist in his physical make-up and that combined with his mental make-up and his ability proves that the before-mentioned prophet was correct. Orpheus was a great man in his day—a fact which we don't deny—but were it not for the day of "Jim," our musical programs would fall flat.

"Mama! What's the man doin' up in the air?"

"Ray" is another member of our class who helps make the band a success. When it comes to blowing his horn, he is right there. Perhaps his ability to pole vault is derived from a tendency to go up in the air; but in general it will be hard to find a fellow with more common sense and level-headedness than "Ray." There is talk of enlarging the Spanish Department so that this linguist can take more of his prized language.

Shadows stir 'round "Betty's" mouth so often, we wish she would smile more—not that she seldom does, far be it from us to make such a rash statement! But one thing we have learned, and take heed all. Never call her "Winnie" if you would seek to please her. "Cady" is keen on horseback riding and tennis, too. Furthermore, she can tell you all sorts of interesting stories about her experiences in the mountains of Kentucky. "Betty" is promised much happiness in the future, we surmise.

There's something "new" about "Eddie." That is, we mean to say, she hasn't always been the same. First she had curly hair, then a boyish bob, and now it's all grown out. Anyway, as long as "Eddie" is around we think that gentlemen will always prefer blondes, and we don't see what we can do about it. Doris is a dashing young lady. She dashes for the Blue Baboon, both on its pages and on its circulation. She trips to the Play House quite often, too. When "Eddie" once gets interested in anything, it goes through —and how!

LAURA SHIRLEY QUICK
Watertown, Connecticut
Watertown High School

Dramatic Club (1, 2, 3); French Club (1).

"A merry heart hath a continual feast."

Shirley, to all outward appearances, is very quiet, but often one who knows the secret, may touch a hidden spring and disclose a store of sparkling joy. She is mistress of a delightful disposition and a gentleness which endears her to all her friends. We have a sneaking suspicion that the magus who possesses the key to her mysterious secrets is now at Dartmouth.

HENRIETTE ANNE MARIE RANTY
Middlebury, Vermont
ΠΒΦ
Gloversville High School,
Gloversville, New York

Dramatic Club (1, 3); Spanish Club (2, 3); French Club (1, 2, 3).

"She danced a jig, she sung a song, that took my heart away."

The class of '29 is very happy that M. Ranty decided to teach in Middlebury three years ago, for that has given us Henriette. Life will never be dull while "Runty" is around to lighten it with her laughter and delightful sense of humor. Her fluency has righted many an awkward stab at the "francais" for us. Picture her flying from one room to another at the Château, lithe little sprite that she is, in answer to frantic appeals of "Runty, how do you say this?" or "What does this mean, Runty?" Teaching French may be her chosen labor, but we suspect that the "Union" will interfere.

JEAN ANDERSON RENTON
North Adams, Massachusetts
ΚΚΓ
Drury High School, North Adams

Dramatic Club (1, 2); Health Club (2, 3); Hiking Club (2); House Chairman (3); Class Championship Baseball Team (2).

"They always talk who never think."

No, Jean doesn't say much, but when she does it amounts to something. She must have said the right thing at some time or other, for a ruby-eyed skull may be found over her heart. Jean is the capable, dependable sort with an occasional burst of merriment which lights up her more serious hours.

RUTH EMERSON ROGERS
Townshend, Vermont
Leland and Gray Seminary, Townshend

Dramatic Club (2, 3); French Club (2, 3); Choir (2, 3); Pyramid Club.

"Prize that which is best in the universe."

Ruth is eager to learn and holds fast the best from her studies and life. For her the beautiful things are dearest, fine music, poetry and art. Possessing talents herself only makes her more appreciative. Will we meet her again sometime in Paris? If so, we hope that she will smile and speak just a few words in that charming voice, remembering the first stammering days at the Château.

MILDRED THRALL ROSS
West Rutland, Vermont
ΚΚΓ
West Rutland High School

Choir (1, 2, 3); Dramatic Club (1, 2, 3); Class Volley Ball Team (2); All-Midd Team (2); World Fellowship Committee of Y. W. (3); House Chairman (3); Orchestra (3).

"Music hath charms."

That smile is only the half of it! Sometimes Mildred laughs until she cries, on which occasion even doctors and nurses are needed. But in spite of this weakness, she plays a marvelous game of volley ball. She has an unusually beautiful soprano voice, too, and we could never tire of listening to her. Assuredly, Mildred's music hath charms.

CAROLIN ESTHER RUSHLOW
Shelburne Harbor, Vermont
ΠΒΦ
Burlington High School

Freshman Frolic Committee (1); Dramatic Club (1, 2, 3); Junior Week Advertising Committee (3).

"She liked whate'er
She looked upon; her looks went every where."

"Rush" is our mutual friend for she knows every one and is sure to know some one you knew somewhere at sometime. Her wonderful disposition never fails her, come what may. She can laugh even while ripping a seam for the third time in Home Ec! What disappointment will stand against her staunch optimism? Charming little rhymes bubble forth from her clever brain, applicable to every possible occasion. "Estie" is efficiency itself in managing an entertainment and—can she dance!

MARY ELIZABETH SAWYER
Waterville, Connecticut.
Crosby High School

Music Committee Y. W. C. A. (2); Dramatic Club (3); Pyramid Club.

"Nurture your mind with great thoughts."

Though Mary has deserted us, we shan't forget her for many a day. Between the muses of literature and music she kept herself well occupied. Those who know her best will tell you that behind that quiet and studious exterior lay many a joke and prank. Now she is going into kindergarten work. Lucky kiddies that have the chance to start out under Mary!

HELEN IRENE SEELEY
Middlebury, Vermont
Middlebury High School

Pyramid Club.

"Energy and persistence conquer all things."

Helen's energy has accomplished tremendous tasks well nigh the line labelled "impossibility." Illness has frequently made her withdraw from our ranks temporarily, but we feel confident that she will easily be graduated with the class of 1929. A few make-up exams cannot daunt her, as we have had occasion to witness. We hope that from now on Helen will receive kinder treatment at the hands of Fate. She is more than willing to help some one else along, and we think it time that she got a break or two.

MABEL KELSEY SEVERANCE

East Middlebury, Vermont

Middlebury High School

French Club (1, 3); Spanish Club (3); Dramatic Club (3); Pyramid Club.

"Be prepared."

"Mabelline" is one who delights in preparing her work a week ahead of time. We have never seen her without her roommate, except on rare occasions. She is a bit quiet, except at five o'clock, when the phone call is received, and wild bursts of hilarity may then be heard up in Mabel's room.

MARJORIE SIBLEY

Worcester, Massachusetts

ΦM

South High School, Worcester

Class Basketball Team (1, 2, 3), All-Midd Team (1, 2); Class Baseball Team (1), All-Midd Team (1); Class Hockey Team (2, 3), All-Midd Team (2, 3); Custodian Women's Athletic Association (3); Student Government Council (3); Sophomore Hop Committee (2); Head of Hockey 1928.

"A sweet content passing all wisdom or its fairest flower."

None of us will be surprised to hear someday of A. G. Spaulding's adopting an intricate game which will require knowledge to the *n*th degree of either a hockey stick, a basketball, a tennis racket, or a referee's whistle, or a combination of the same, or some new instrument as yet unknown. "Marj" will have invented it. "Marj" is skilled in other things too, for every night about 10:30 she is putting the finishing touches on a lengthy account which we can hardly believe to be a diary. Thoughtfulness and unselfishness—that's "Marj."

CARLINE EMILY SPARHAWK

Walpole, New Hampshire

Walpole High School

Dramatic Club (1, 2, 3); French Club (1, 2, 3); Health Club (2); House Chairman (3); Pyramid Club.

"A workman that needeth not to be ashamed."

There comes a gentle, but authoritative knock at the door, then a polite request to extinguish the hall lights at 10:30. Carline is house chairman, which office is a tribute to her reliability. She is the fortunate possessor of a goodly degree of persistency, which comes to her aid in French Comp and Home Ec assignments. Even if she is house chairman, Caroline can enjoy a feed after 10:30 without a pang. She believes that there is a proper place for all things, even a conscience.

RUTH ELIZABETH SPAULDING

Amherst, Massachusetts

ΠΒΦ

Amherst High School

French Club (1); Cast of "The Goose Hangs High" (1); Class Baseball Team (1, 2); Championship Team (2); All-Midd Team (1); Class Basketball Team (1); Class Secretary (3); Class Hockey Team (1, 2).

"Clever she is in all but this:
She scarcely knows how fair she is."

When "Pat" first came to Middlebury she hid her real self beneath a calm, cool exterior that made us a trifle afraid of her. After three years of association, we have found under that seemingly impenetrable aloofness, a sunny character and charming personality making us proud to have her one of '29. "Pat" is a peach. And, by the way, Emily Post is considered the very best authority on weddings, "Pat."

FRANCES SPEAR

"Write me as one who loves his fellow-men."

Thus speaks our class monitor, and we believe her, only why does one have to be late to Chapel? Such an evil should be abolished from our present system. There's no one who can tell a funny story the way "Fatne" can. And have you ever noticed the signs that are apt to hang on the door of her room? Such talent should not be hidden from the public eye. "Fat" has been known to sit at Student Government Council and Y. W. Cabinet meetings, but such appearances are thoroughly deceiving. She likes a game of bridge as much as anybody.

GRETCHEN DAVIS TAYLOR
Spencer, Massachusetts
David Prouty High School, Spencer

Dramatic Club (1); House Chairman (1); Women's Debating Team (2, 3); Vice-President Debating Club (2, 3); Women's Prize Speaking Contest (2); Freshman Prize Debating Contest (1); Y. W. Rural Discussion Group (2, 3); Rural Committee (2, 3); Y. W. C. A. Cabinet (3); Health Club (2); Hiking Club (2, 3), Head of Hiking (3); Tau Kappa Alpha; Pyramid Club.

"I count life just a stuff
To try the soul's strength on."

"Gret" brings the air of open fields and autumn winds in the tree-tops, of picnics and hikes, snowshoes and skates. She is a genuine out-door girl. Her interests are as wide as the meadows: varsity debating team, the school at Ripton, and an extra course or two. What with juggling trays, calming unquiet hours, locking safely for the night and answering everyone's questions, "Gret" is always occupied but never other than calm and serene. A little upward quirk at the corner of her mouth is most persistent.

MARY ENID TILLAPAUGH
Torrington, Connecticut
ΠΒΦ
Torrington High School

Dramatic Club (1, 2); Spanish Club (3); House Chairman (3).

"Her ways are ways of pleasantness,
And all her paths are peace."

"Mary Tillapaugh" said our Frosh roster, and we wondered who "Mary" was. Now we know. "Tilly" is quick-witted, and we have as yet failed to meet one who can put something over on her. "Dinah" has a keen sense of humor that makes her society a pleasure not often equalled. "Enid" is the girl who would do anything in her power for anyone. Put the three together and you have a friend who will always remember you, and one whom you cannot easily forget.

KATHRYN TRASK

"She's all my fancy painted her;
She's lovely, she's divine."

"Kay's" rating sheet checks up one hundred per cent on both sides of the hill in personality, appearance and keeness. Sophistication, syncopation and smilingness make her O. K. and the chief Don of the Don Juans cries, "Kay's Oh Kay for me."

"If life's a flower, I choose my own."

Riotous laughter issuing from a dead silence or penetrating the general rumble at Bat Cot—and on all sides people murmur "Tud" and crane their necks to see what she is up to now. We defy anyone to have a dull time if "Tud" is in the vicinity. We might add that "Terry Mudhope" has been a member of all the championship teams '29 has evolved (which is saying a lot, for we just can't be beaten.)

"Reproof on her lip, but a smile in her eye."

What does one generally do after winning a popularity contest? Hollywood is the proper place, we believe. Or one's name may be illuminated on the Great White Way. So, if Helen runs true to form, we will all be proud to say sometime, "Oh, yes, we were in college together." We will not be telling an untruth, either; Helen is such a friendly sort. Clever? At everything, is our envious reply. Acting, singing, dancing, making artistic favours and such. Studies quail before her. Even her knees give way at times to the strength of her spirit! And have you heard her play the piano? Just name any popular piece from 1914 on, and Helen will render it to perfection.

"She mixed reason with pleasure,
And wisdom with mirth."

Happy Sylvia! Do things never get on your nerves? Stuffy labs and inhuman Math problems and other sundry little things? We've come to the conclusion that nothing can rob "Slyv" of her genius as an optimist. She puts all would-be "crabbers" to flight and while you're with her, you may be sure that this old world will be the happiest in the universe. "Slyv" is at her best in athletics, especially hockey, although swimming and skating are two of her hobbies.

"The glad indomitable sea,
The strong white sun."

One of the most attractive and sprightly members of our class is this girl from the small seaside town, her shining, golden hair and amiable smile not the least of her noticeable characteristics. She can charm your soul with beautiful music, or persuade your feet to do most anything with her catchy jazz playing. A charming manner invites your confidence or your laughter, for she can be both gay and serious. She swims wonderfully, skates as well. In short, combine versatility with gaiety and you have—Lara.

"Sigh'd and look'd unutterable things."

Eloise is one of those clever, different people who will always stand out in a crowd. As the nun in "The Nativity" her pleasing low voice, eyes with their unusual lashes, and gracious dignity all thrilled us immensely. Then we read her charming story in the Saxonian. This year the one act productions at the Playhouse received many of their most striking costumes from her skillful fingers. All in all, the years should prove to be interesting ones for Eloise.

"And grace that won who saw to wish her stay."

Lo, a sun-kist maiden, bright and cheerful as her native state. Emily has not been with us long, but she is one of those easy folk whom it is impossible to style "new-comer." She enters into everything at once, and finds a place for herself without commotion. Spanish is her delight, but somehow we find it rather difficult to associate her with an old mission, though we have no doubt that rose-colored rocks and dark juniper trees would make a charming background for her golden hair. We hope that Eastern ways will meet with her approval, contrary to the ordinary reception of "cold, New England reserve."

"Smiles from reason flow."

We suspect "William" has secret and very worldly ambitions, for is she not one of those geographically inclined co-eds? We think it is a cosmopolitan longing in one so shy, but, of course, much might be covered by her smile.

"The soul's calm sunshine and the heartfelt joy."

Carolyn is possessed of a beautiful contralto voice of which she is altogether too niggardly; liberality befits all talents. Still, she more than makes up for this tiny fault in basketball. Carolyn is a positive genius on the floor. In addition she has a capacity for bridge that knows no limits. She gives evidence of a heartfelt joy now and then, but as regards the origin one cannot be quite sure!

"Betty" is a quiet miss, somewhat reserved, but there is a twinkle in her eyes that she cannot always withhold. At such times she is delightfully witty, and highly amusing. Those who know her best enjoy her frank, pleasing manner of expression, and more than that her genuine friendliness.

Football, Season 1927

ON the twelfth of September, Captain Furbush led a squad of 26 men to Porter Field for its first practice. Coach Klevenow, assisted by Coach Hessler, was fortunate in having 11 letter men from the previous year's varsity squad and four men from last year's yearling team with which to work. With Captain Furbush at one tackle, Palmer, Whittemore, and Jones at end, Bedell and Allen as guards, Webber at center, and Gollnick, Hinman, Ransom, and Hendrix in the backfield, as well as Guarnaccia, Huntington, Johnson, and Goltry from the Freshmen team of the previous year, prospects looked bright for the coming season.

But after the first game, at Williamstown, the team was minus the services of its captain, quarterback, and an end who received injuries in the game which kept them on the sidelines for some time. From then on, one unlucky event followed another: injuries, a protested game, and then the flood. The Norwich players were unable to reach Middlebury because of the high water, and the game was cancelled.

In the last game of the season, with Vermont, at Centennial Field, Middlebury was beaten 13 to 7, thus ending one of the most unsuccessful seasons that Middlebury has known in several years.

One redeeming feature of the flood was the opportunity given the students to show their loyalty to the team. Because of washouts, no special train could be secured for the Burlington game, but a large and enthusiastic body of undergraduates succeeded, by various means, in getting to Burlington to witness its team fight its hardest against the Green and Gold.

WILLIAMS 20—MIDDLEBURY 13

Williamstown, Massachusetts, October 1, 1927

Because of the suffocating heat and the strong reserve material that Williams was able to send into the fray, the Blue went down to defeat, fighting every inch of the way, in the opening game of the season. The Black Panther eleven was somewhat handicapped by the loss of Captain Furbush early in the second quarter, due to an injury that kept him out of the lineup for some weeks to come. At no time during the game was the Blue outplayed or outfought. With only eleven men and one substitution, the Panther gave the opposing team something to worry about throughout the entire game, and not until the final whistle blew did the Williams men feel that they had the Panther's scalp in their belt. Whittemore scooped up a Williams fumble and raced 35 yards for a touchdown and added the extra point a few seconds later by a dropkick. The Williams coach sent in a whole new team at this point of the game and, with Howe and Brown bearing the brunt of the attack, carried the ball over for a touchdown. Middlebury gave them the extra point when they were offside, thus tying the score. Sinclair replaced Furbush who was injured, and the Purple got away with a long pass which placed them near their goal line. The second touchdown followed and the extra point added by a dropkick, thus putting Williams in the lead by seven points. In the third quarter a long pass from Gollnick to Maynard resulted in a touchdown, but Whittemore failed to add the extra point. The exhaustion of the players in the last half was noticeable from the frequent time outs taken by both teams. The Black Panther eleven playing as a single man gave a great exhibition of endurance under such terrific heat, and only in the last two minutes of play, when everyone was all but exhausted, did Williams score again after intercepting a Middlebury pass on their own thirty-yard line and carrying it fifty yards to Middlebury's twenty-yard marker. Howe then carried it over on a nice lateral pass, making the game a sure thing for Williams.

Palmer, Guarnaccia, Huntington, and Captain Furbush played a stellar game for Middlebury, especially Guarnaccia and Huntington, who were playing their first varsity game under the Blue and White.

MIDDLEBURY 12—M. A. C. 0

Porter Field, October 8, 1927

Although minus the services of Captain Furbush and Gollnick who were injured the previous week in the Williams game, Middlebury defeated the Massachusetts Agricultural College 12 to 0, in a somewhat slow and uninteresting game.

Except for the playing of Guarnaccia at full and a twenty-yard pass from Whittemore to Hinman, who was tackled as he was crossing the goal line, the game was uneventful. Much credit must be given Guarnaccia who was playing his second varsity game and proved himself an important factor in the Middlebury victory, being a powerful line plunger and a tower of strength on the defense. The first quarter was scoreless with M. A. C. having the advantage in a punting game. Whittemore was being rushed and as a result his punts were rather poor. Middlebury had the ball on the twenty-yard line after a series of forward passes. Jones was injured in this period and was forced from the game. With three minutes left to play in the first half, Huntington broke through and broke up a punt on the thirty-yard line from where, on a series of line plays in which Guarnaccia, Whittemore and Johnson were the main factors, the ball was brought to the one-yard line. On the next play Guarnaccia carried it across for the first score.

The second half was a repetition of the first, the ball staying about mid-field in an exchange of punts until Whittemore and Hinman teamed up on a twenty-yard pass for another touchdown. Hinman was tackled just as he crossed the goal line. Middlebury kicked off and M. A. C. was able to hold the Blue and White for the remaining part of the game. In the last minute of play M. A. C. was penalized, for clipping, half the distance of the field, but the game ended before Middlebury could get under way.

TUFTS 16—MIDDLEBURY 7

Tufts Oval, Medford, Massachusetts, October 15, 1925

A fighting Black Panther eleven was defeated by a fast, rushing attack of the undefeated Jumbo combination in the Jumbo's jungle at Medford. The Panther eleven put up a wonderful struggle, but was powerless before the speedy offense of Fish Ellis, the flashy Tufts half-back. Although the Medford team outplayed the Blue and White, it was a wonderful game and many spectacular plays were run on both sides. The crowd was dazed by the fast work of Ellis who is considered one of the best halfbacks in New England. A blocked punt, late in the first period, paved the way for the first touchdown. With the ball on the twenty-yard line, after the first play of the second quarter, Fitzgerald, the drop-kicking ace, booted one over the crossbar for the first score of the game. A short time later another blocked punt gave the Jumbo the ball on the five-yard mark, and Ellis slipped over for a touchdown. Palmer, fighting through, blocked the kick for Middlebury. With about five minutes to play, Ellis again came into the limelight and snatched one of Middlebury's passes out of the air for a fifty-five-yard run and a touchdown, making his second of the game. Middlebury, fighting to the last, was not to be outdone. Just before the whistle blew, Gollnick threw a long pass to Hinman who tore off the fifty yards to the goal line for the Panthers only score. Whittemore added the extra point with a drop kick. Middlebury's fighting spirit was noticeable throughout the game, and the playing of Guarnaccia at full and Palmer at end did much to make up for the loss of Captain Furbush, Jones and Bedell who were out of the game on account of injuries. However, the inability of the Blue in tackling was one of the causes of its defeat, and had these men been in the game the outcome might have been different.

Hinman Stopped After Long Gain—Tufts Game

MIDDLEBURY—HAMILTON—No Contest

Clinton, New York, October 29, 1927

A much inferior Hamilton eleven defeated the Middlebury team by a decision which was not allowed by the Central Board, who gave the game to Middlebury by a score of 12 to 9. Although the Blue team was much superior to the Hamilton eleven, making many more first downs and playing the Hamiltonians off their feet, they were constantly retarded by the infliction of many penalties by the referee. The total distance lost by penalties numbered 180 yards against 20 for Hamilton. Both points, after touchdowns, were forfeited by the referee who claimed Middlebury was holding. One kick was not even touched and the other went squarely over the crossbar. The final argument, on which the game was protested by Coach Klevenow came when a Hamilton man fumbled near his own goal line and Webber fell on the ball before it crossed the goal line. The referee claimed the ball crossed the goal line and was a touchdown although he had previously called it a safety. It was later declared a safety by the Central Board. Middlebury's first score came in the opening period when Gollnick heaved a long pass to Hinman, who ran thirty yards for a touchdown. The point after was not kicked. Again in the third quarter the Blue and White, by straight football, rushed the Hamilton eleven from its own forty-yard line to the ten-yard line, where Palmer took the ball over on an end around play. Hamilton athletic officials, in a letter to Coach Brown, asked that the game be called a no-contest. The referee, later, in a letter to Coach Brown, apologized for the error he had made and admitted the superiority of the Panther eleven. However the athletic authorities of both institutions agreed to call the game "No contest." If Middlebury had played as she was capable of playing, the score would never have become so close as to need a decision.

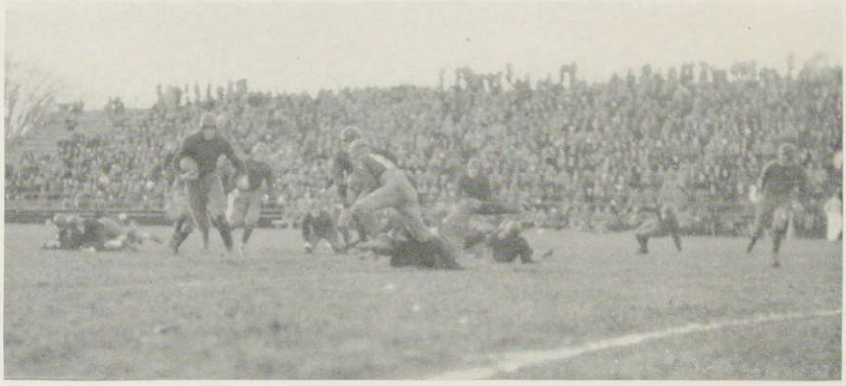
VERMONT 13—MIDDLEBURY 7

Centennial Field, Burlington, Vermont, November 12, 1927

A large body of undergraduates was on hand at Centennial Field to see the Green and Gold defeat a rather weakened Panther eleven in the first three quarters of the game. Vermont clearly had the breaks of the day, for in the second quarter Macomber grabbed a pass from Gollnick to Hinman out of the air and raced fifty yards for a touchdown. Again in the third quarter, the Catamount caught the Panther asleep and shot a lateral pass to Conway, who ran over for the second touchdown of the game. The great Conway kick failed to go over the bar for the extra point. In the first three quarters, Vermont outplayed the Middlebury eleven, but, with a fighting spirit known only to the Blue and White, the team carried the ball on straight football the full length of the field for their only touchdown. Palmer, the Panthers' sturdy end, was easily the best man on the field. Time and time again he would stop the opponents' backs for a loss, or pick a pass out of the air only to be downed the moment he caught it. Jones at the other end also played a good game, having to retire from the game in the second half on account of injuries. Jones



Macomber Around End

came from his flood-stricken home in Waterbury the morning of the game, arriving in time to don a uniform and play his last game for Middlebury. Johnson and Hendrix also played a stellar game for Middlebury, while Captain Smith and Conway of Vermont stopped the Panther backs before they could get to an open field. Although Middlebury was somewhat handicapped by the loss, through injuries, of Captain Furbush and Gollnick, the eleven showed the Vermonters that a Blue and White eleven is not defeated until the final whistle is blown.

Baseball, 1927

WITH only two letter men lost through graduation and the remaining squad composed mostly of Sophomores, who had played together the previous year, prospects looked bright for the Panther nine. However, the season turned out disappointingly both to the coach and to the players.

The first game of the season was well played and resulted in a five to one victory for the Panther club. The second game, played the following day, seemed to be the beginning of a jinx that followed the team throughout the season—this game and eight others, comprising almost half of the total games played, being lost by a single score. Poor fielding, combined with an inability to hit when hits meant runs, made it impossible for the team to pull itself out of pinches without a number of errors.

Having lost three games in a row, the team landed on Lowell for a thirteen to three victory, only to lose to Vermont on the home field by a lone tally. The team appeared to be picking up, when the following week it defeated the strong Norwich nine, eight to four. A week's trip several days later proved disastrous to the Blue, four games out of five being lost by a single score. Springfield in a return game trounced a weakened team ten to three. During the remainder of the season, the Panthers won from Upsala and lost to Norwich, Vermont, and St. Lawrence. The team ended the season with a victory, however, by defeating the Alumni in a hotly contested game on Porter Field. Although the season could not be called a success, the team at times played a brand of ball that would do credit to any nine, and with the same men back another year, Middlebury will give the best of them a good battle.

MIDDLEBURY 5—CLARKSON 1

Potsdam, New York, April 29, 1927

The season opened with the team playing in fine style, defeating the fast Clarkson nine on their own field by the score of five to one. Whittemore was chosen to do the hurling for the Blue and White and held the opponents to five scattered hits while his teammates connected with eight safe hits from the delivery of McCarty. Clarkson was the first to score when Haskill was hit by a pitched ball and advanced on an error and accounted for a run on a sacrifice. The Panther rallied in the fourth when March went to first on an error, Collins walked and Willis with two out connected with a single, bringing in March. Collins came in a few minutes later when Whittemore hit safely. In the very next inning Sorensen walked, advanced on an error, and crossed the plate on a sacrifice. One more run was added in the sixth when Willis again singled, stole second, and was brought home by Whittemore's second hit of the game. The last run of the game was scored by Sorensen in the first part of the ninth when he singled and was sacrificed around to home. The team played well for the opening game, giving Whittemore excellent support in the pinches and having only one error marked against them.

ST. LAWRENCE 6—MIDDLEBURY 5

Canton, New York, April 30, 1927

The second game of the season was a disappointment. Having already tucked the scalp of Clarkson under their belts, the Panthers journeyed over to Canton to annex the Little Harvard of the North in the same way. Hingston pitched a good game for the Blue and White after getting away to a bad start in the first inning when four runs had crossed the rubber giving the Northerners quite an advantage. Middlebury had a chance to tie the score in the ninth but failed when the umpire called Sorensen out at the plate in a very close decision. The Blue garnered four runs in the third inning, tying the score with four all. The Cantonites forged ahead in their half of the inning, however, when Willis dropped the ball and Williams, the big first baseman, scored on the play. In a desperately fought ninth inning rally the Blue and White succeeded in scoring another but failed in the attempt to tie the score. Captain Hasseltine walked, advanced on an error, and scored on a hit by W. Hasseltine. Franzoni was sent in at this point to hit for March with Hasseltine on, but failed to touch the ball. Hasseltine was caught at second on an attempted steal, making two out. Sorensen managed to get to first and was pushed around to third on Anderson's hit, but was caught at the plate when he tried to stretch it into a run, thus making the third out and ending the game.

ST. MICHAEL'S 1—MIDDLEBURY 0
Porter Field, May 3, 1927

In the first home game of the season St. Michael's defeated the Blue and White nine, in a closely contested game which contained many thrills, by a score of one to nothing. Middlebury was confident throughout the contest, but the Michaelmen put the much-needed run across the plate in the first half of the ninth inning. In this inning three men were passed on balls and the fourth made a hit bringing in the score which won the game. The feature of the game was a triple play which was pulled off on the next man who hit to Kelley at second, who threw home to Willis; "Bo" threw first, catching the batter there and Captain Hasseltine returned the ball to Willis who caught a man sliding home. Simmons pitched good ball, allowing only three hits to five for the Panther. Each pitcher walked four men, the damage coming through the walking of three men at one time by Middlebury. At only one time, in the sixth inning, did the Michaelmen seem within danger of scoring, but Simmons came to the rescue and fanned two men for a third out.

VILLANOVA 6—MIDDLEBURY 4
Porter Field, May 5, 1927

In one of the slowest and loosest games seen on the home field for some time, Villanova managed to give the Panther its third straight defeat in a week. Five errors were credited to Villanova while the Blue had three, and only three men struck out for both sides during the entire game. Middlebury seemed to far outclass her opponents, who did not appear to handle the ball at all, although managing to garner a dozen hits to Middlebury's three, and with the help of a few errors came out on the right end of the score. Middlebury was superior in the field but was far outclassed in the hitting.

MIDDLEBURY 13—LOWELL TEXTILE 3
Porter Field, May 7, 1927

After losing three games in a row, the Panther came back strong and defeated Lowell Textile thirteen to three. Lowell was the first to score when Kenny was hit by a pitched ball, was advanced to second, and came home when Willis made a bad throw to third. Again in the third the visitors scored on two singles after two were out. Middlebury started a barrage in this inning and, when the ninth inning ended, had piled up a score of thirteen runs. Whittemore allowed only two hits while March drove two doubles over the left field fence. Anderson also played well for the Blue and White.

VERMONT 2—MIDDLEBURY 1
Porter Field, May 12, 1927

After outplaying Vermont in every department of the game the Blue and White lost a hard contest to her old rival on Porter Field by a two to one score. Middlebury had men on bases continually but failed to hit when hits meant runs. There were ten Blue and White men left on the bases during the game. Hingston starred for the Panther, allowing only three scattered hits and accepting five chances in the field without a slip. Middlebury had nine hits credited to them but could only account for one score, while the Vermonters scored in the fifth on an error by Kelley which put a man on first who was sacrificed around for a score. In the next inning the scoring was completed for the game. Vermont scored in their half with a single and a double while the Panthers made a bid for the game in their half of the inning. Whittemore, first up, grounded out. Sorensen doubled but Willis flied out for a second and March hit to deep right, scoring "Swede." Hingston, Anderson, and March played well for the Panther while Macomber won the game for the Green on a double.

MIDDLEBURY 8—NORWICH 4
Porter Field, May 13, 1927

The thirteenth was a lucky day for the Panther when it defeated the Horsemen in the second series of the state title games. The first four innings looked dark for the Blue when the Cadets had managed to score three tallies. A home run by Cusson and a three bagger by Hourin accounted for the scores. In the fifth, Anderson and Whittemore started things going for the Blue, reaching first on errors. March then came through with a double bringing in two tallies. Anderson accounted for two more when he drove out a three bagger, scoring Captain Hasseltine and March. Again in the eighth, the Blue garnered three runs on two errors and one hit. Garrity held the Panther to five hits while the Cadets gathered seven from Whittemore and one from Simmons.

DARTMOUTH 2—MIDDLEBURY 1
Hanover, New Hampshire, May 17, 1927

Middlebury lost the first game of their trip when, in a gruelling pitchers' battle, Liberity of Dartmouth managed to get a one run lead on Whittemore of the Blue and White. Dartmouth had seven hits to their credit while Middlebury knocked out six. The Big Green team was obliged to substitute Van Riper for Liberity in the last inning when the Blue had three men on bases and threatened to take the game. The Panthers lost several chances to score during the game and, due to poor baseball, Dartmouth held them on the bases when any sort of a hit meant runs.

NEW HAMPSHIRE 1—MIDDLEBURY 0
Durham, New Hampshire, May 18, 1927

New Hampshire managed to squeeze in a run when, in the fourth inning, Hoyt hit, stole second, and came home when a thrown ball by Willis hit a New Hampshire man and rolled out into the field. The game was called in the sixth, on account of rain, with N. H. one run in the lead. Simmons allowed only four hits to Middlebury's three.

RHODE ISLAND STATE 3—MIDDLEBURY 2
Kingston, Rhode Island, May 19, 1927

In a one-sided game Rhode Island defeated the Panther, three to two, and not until the last inning could the Blue men solve the delivery of the State's moundsman. With two on bases and two out, Collins drove out a two base hit thus saving Middlebury from a shutout. Whittemore allowed only four hits, but his teammates accounted for five errors while the opponents made one error, and Middlebury could garner only three hits from Drahetti.

SPRINGFIELD 13—MIDDLEBURY 0
Springfield, Massachusetts, May 20, 1927

The Blue and White team suffered a severe accident when their car turned over en route to Springfield, several players being injured and shaken up. Although the game with Springfield was played, the interest of the players was somewhat lacking and the effect of the trip showed in their playing. Hingston was soon forced out of the box and Simmons held down the score as much as possible, considering that several regulars were out of the lineup. The team made six errors and collected five hits to one error and eleven hits for Springfield.

ST. MICHAEL'S 6—MIDDLEBURY 5
Winooski Park, Winooski, Vermont, May 25, 1927

The Michaelmen again humbled the Panther on their home field by a one run lead. Several regulars were out of the fray because of the accident on the Springfield trip. The Purple scored in the opening frame while the Blue came back strong in the sixth with a two run lead. In the eighth the game turned into an uproar, both teams running wild around the bases in their half of the inning. Kelley and W. Hasseltine each collected two hits for the Blue and White.

MIDDLEBURY 4—M. A. C. 2
Porter Field, May 27, 1927

The Panther nine finally broke into the winning column by defeating the strong Mass Aggies on the home field in a smooth and well-played game. The Blue seemed to have acquired new form and worked like a new team. In the first four innings the Aggies took a two run lead, but in the fifth, sixth, and seventh innings, the Blue found their batting eye, and drove four runs and the game across the plate. March and Anderson made some difficult catches in the outfield which gave the crowd a thrill. Whittemore pitched a stellar game, allowing only three hits and bringing in a run by a hit of his own.

SPRINGFIELD 10—MIDDLEBURY 3
Porter Field, May 28, 1927

Springfield again defeated the Blue and White nine on the home field. The hard-hitting visitors started things in the first inning when Mahnken drove a three bagger into center field. They drove Simmons from the box in the fifth, Whittemore taking his place. Middlebury scored in the second and fourth innings on clean hits. The feature of the game was a home run drive by Duncan of Springfield over the left field fence. Springfield scored six runs in the fifth and three in the sixth, thus ending the scoring of the game.

NORWICH 6—MIDDLEBURY 4

Sabine Field, Northfield, Vermont, May 30, 1927

After defeating the Cadets in a game on Porter Field, Middlebury lost to the Maroon at Northfield six to four. The Blue and White started off at a fast pace, scoring two runs on three hits in the first inning. Their hopes were short-lived, however, for in the same inning Hourin connected for a circuit clout with two men on. Middlebury used three pitchers during the game. Although the Panther outhit the Cadets nine to six, they could not make them account for runs. For Middlebury the Hasseltine brothers played a stellar game, collecting four of the nine hits between them.

MIDDLEBURY 3—UPSALA 0

Porter Field, June 1, 1927

Middlebury shut out Upsala in a pitchers' battle between "Hal" Whittemore and Jacobs, the visitors' twirler. "Hal" allowed only three hits while his teammates collected six, accounting for three runs and enough to win. Captain Hasseltine started things off well in the first inning when he singled over short and was advanced to third on Franzoni's hit. Both men crossed the plate on a bunt and a passed ball. The game was a tossup until the eighth when the Blue got three men on and no outs, but could only succeed in putting one run across the rubber due to the effective pitching of the visiting moundsman. Jacobs was the outstanding player for Upsala, striking out twelve men, while Captain Hasseltine starred for the Panthers.

VERMONT 9—MIDDLEBURY 4

Centennial Field, Burlington, Vermont, June 4, 1927

The Catamount again defeated the Panther in the State Series in a slugging match in which the Green and Gold collected thirteen hits for a total of nine runs against the Blue's seven hits and four runs. The Vermonters scored four times in the third on a three bagger by Fogg, the big Green hurler. The Vermonters scored in almost every inning, and seemed to be able to solve the offerings of Simmons and Hingston when hits meant runs. Middlebury's scores came in the sixth and eighth innings. In the sixth, Hasseltine singled and scored on Anderson's hit, who also scored on an error by the catcher. The eighth saw the Panther making a bid to even things up a little. Whittemore reached first on an error, stole second, and scored on Sorensen's hit. Willis then tripled, bringing in Sorensen for the final tally of the game.

ST. LAWRENCE 4—MIDDLEBURY 1

Porter Field, June 18, 1927

After a lay-off since June fourth, the Panther nine again took the field for the next to the last game of the season against the fast St. Lawrence nine. It was an exciting game to watch with heavy hitting on both sides. The Cantonites had the little better of the score when their big first baseman connected for a three-bagger with two men on bases in the seventh inning. Considering that the Blue and White had not practiced since the Vermont game the team did well to hold the Northerners in check. O'Brien, the visiting twirler, was easily the star of the game and was one of the best pitchers seen in action on Porter Field for several years. Whittemore also pitched a good game for the Panthers.

MIDDLEBURY 12—ALUMNI 4

Porter Field, June 19, 1927

The Blue ended the season with a win over the fast Alumni team, composed of the former stars of the college, with Coach Klevenow on the mound. This game was the same as all games with the Alumni, a battle of those who are and those who were; and as is usually the case, those who are came out on top. Captain Hasseltine, playing his last game for his Alma Mater, had charge of the team and not only used good judgment but played a stellar game in the field as well.

Basketball, 1927-1928

THE season ended with a glorious win over our ancient rival, Vermont, who for the past ten years had carried off the championship honors without a great deal of effort. From the standpoint of a win over Vermont for the first time in ten years, one might call the season successful, but upon looking back over a season of seven triumphs and nine defeats the followers of the Blue and White must admit that the season was, after all, not so successful. The team got away to a bad start in the early part of the season, only to increase in strength and improve as the season progressed until the fitting climax of any Middlebury season came, a win over the Green and Gold. During the Christmas vacation the team journeyed to New York and Philadelphia where, out of four games played, the Blue won one. Brooklyn Polytech was the only team to bow before the Panther, although the Manhattan game was lost by only one basket. On its second trip of the season, the Blue was defeated by Harvard, Holy Cross, and Brown, but succeeded in pinning a 48 to 25 defeat on St. Michael's on the the home court. From this time on the Panther five seemed to improve and out of the remaining nine games succeeded in winning six and tying Vermont for the championship of the state.

With five letter men available, the prospects for a good season looked exceptionally bright. At the outset, however, hard luck seemed to again be with us. Palmer, a regular of the previous season, was unable to start the season due to an injury received during the football season. The Christmas trip did not turn out very well, due to the short time allowed the team for practice and the late arrival of Coach Hargreaves. The team had but two weeks' practice before the opening game with St. Stephen's. In spite of this handicap, however, the team showed up well against both St. Stephen's and Manhattan, and the defeats of Temple and Brooklyn showed that the team had not had sufficient time in which to get into condition and team play. After the first home game of the season with St. Michael's, Middlebury found itself and, although losing to New Hampshire, Vermont, and Springfield, it came back with a fighting spirit to defeat Norwich twice, St. Michael's, Montreal A. A., and Vermont in the last game of the season, and tied the Green and Gold for the State Championship honors. Captain Sorensen, a twenty-niner, and Johnson of the class of thirty, led the team in individual scoring for the season. Spooner, another twenty-niner and captain-elect, was one of the mainstays of the team at a guard position.

ST. STEPHEN'S 33—MIDDLEBURY 24

In the opening game of the year, Middlebury lost to St. Stephen's on the latter's floor in a slow and loosely played game. Both teams showed the effect of a short, early season workout and lacked the finish of a mid-season team. Riccardi, St. Stephen's star forward, was easily the star of the contest and kept the Blue guards busy throughout the contest. At the half, Middlebury was behind by two points, but in the last two periods St. Stephen's came back strong and, with some pretty work by Keen, showed the way to the Blue quintet. Coach Hargreaves played every man on the squad in this contest, in an attempt to find the best possible combination for later games.

MANHATTAN 29—MIDDLEBURY 27

The following night the Blue and White showed much better form and made the Manhattan five show some real basketball in order to win. Casey started the scoring for the Blue and this lead was held until the final minutes of the half, when Manhattan rallied, then forged ahead to have a 16 to 14 lead at the end of the half. The second half was a repetition of the first, with both sides struggling for the lead. In the last few minutes of play, Manhattan got a one-basket lead which they held till the whistle ended the game, with Middlebury on the short end of the score.

TEMPLE 59—MIDDLEBURY 30

The Blue and White were completely outplayed at Philadelphia by the Temple five. The men showed the effects of two hard previous games and also the effects of the long trip. The Quaker city team, composed of tall, rangy men, completely outplayed the Panther. They had a flashy floor attack and a clever passing game that completely bewildered the Middlebury five. They took the lead at the start and increased it as the game progressed. At no time during the game did the Blue have a chance with the more experienced and rangy Quaker team.

MIDDLEBURY 29—BROOKLYN POLYTECHNIC 22

With a determination to avenge the overwhelming defeat of the previous evening, the Blue and White let loose a vicious attack against the Brooklyn five which carried the New Yorkers off their feet. The team was well supported by the undergraduates and alumni of New York and that vicinity. The Panthers' passing game was much improved over the previous games and, although the floor was small, they worked the ball down to the basket as though in mid-season form. Brooklyn held a one-basket lead at the half, only to lose it shortly after the opening of the final session. In this half Brooklyn could only garner four floor baskets while the Blue steadily forged ahead, and at the final whistle led by seven points.

HARVARD 59—MIDDLEBURY 33

On the trip after the Christmas holidays, the Blue met the Crimson in the first game in almost three weeks and, as a result, suffered a disastrous defeat at Cambridge. The rejuvenated Crimson team was at its best and seemed to be able to sink them from all over the court. Slocum and Wenner together for the Harvard five scored more points than the whole Panther outfit. In the first half the Blue managed to keep the Crimson down to a ten-point lead, but with the opening of the second half Harvard completely outclassed the Blue. Captain Sorensen led the scoring for Middlebury with four baskets and three fouls, while Casey did some great defensive work.

HOLY CROSS 46—MIDDLEBURY 22

The following evening the Blue again met defeat in Worcester at the hands of the strong Holy Cross quintet. They excelled the Blue in all departments of the game. Their defensive work was insurpassable and with the smoothness of a machine their offense carried the ball up under the basket in a series of passes that bewildered the Blue and White. The score at the end of the half stood 28 to 14 in favor of Holy Cross. At the beginning of the final period the Purple mentor sent in a whole new five, which seemed to function with the smoothness of the first and held the Panther to only eight points for the remainder of the game, while managing to net eighteen for themselves.

BROWN 31—MIDDLEBURY 30

In the final game of the trip, the Blue came back strong in an effort to overcome the strong Brown quintet. It was a fight to the finish, with the Bear having a little the better of the battle over the Panther, leading at the whistle by one point. The foul shooting of the Providence team won the game for them for, in the baskets shot, Middlebury led the Brown team. Several times during the contest Middlebury went into the lead only to lose it a few minutes later, when points were netted from the foul line. Brown led at the end of the first half by four points. In the last period, however, the Blue put up a great fight for the game, but were unable to overcome the four-point margin although they battled on more than even terms. Casey and Johnson starred for the Blue and White with the latter as high score man.

MIDDLEBURY 48—ST. MICHAEL'S 25

Middlebury overwhelmed St. Michael's in the first home game of the season, as well as the first round of the state series. The Panther uncorked a great scoring attack that dazzled the Purple five, and encouraged the team in its following games. With the score at 22 at the end of the half, Coach Hargreaves sent in the second team for the remainder of the game. In the last period the score was more than doubled, while the Michaelmen were only able to collect a total of twenty-five points. The team played well together and worked with the smoothness of a well-seasoned aggregation. Johnson led the individual scoring with twelve points to his credit.

NEW HAMPSHIRE 33—MIDDLEBURY 30

After leading throughout the game, the Blue and White was forced to taste defeat again when the University of New Hampshire five rallied in the last few minutes of play to net four successive baskets and lead by three points as the whistle blew. Both teams forced the other to the limit throughout and fast play was seen the entire game. The Panther led at the half, 16 to 14, and retained the lead until there were but three minutes left to play. In the last five minutes Humeston, who had been the mainstay of the Panther attack, was forced from the game with four personal fouls.

This loss was greatly felt as shown by the slump which came over the team shortly afterwards. Johnson and Palmer also starred for the Blue, while Schuman was the star of the New Hampshire quintet.

MIDDLEBURY 38—NORWICH 26

In the second game of the state series, the Blue triumphed over the Cadets in a carnival feature at Rutland by a score of 38 to 26. Although the game was fast throughout, the Norwich five never really threatened at any time in the contest, and the outcome was never in doubt. Spooner opened the scoring, after a few minutes of play, with a pretty side shot which was soon duplicated by Captain Sorensen. The Blue kept the lead, and at half time was ahead, 19 to 14. Norwich seemed unable to find the basket and attempted many long shots which broke up their team work. Captain Sorensen was high point man with six baskets. Casey and Humeston also played well, the latter playing a wonderful passing and defensive game.

VERMONT 39—MIDDLEBURY 23

In the third game of the State series, the University of Vermont defeated the Middlebury five on the University floor in a fast game which was featured by the accurate shooting of the Green and Gold five. They seemed to be able to drop them in from any angle on the court and had the Blue defense on edge throughout the game. The Vermonters with a veteran team, who has played together for the past eight years, including high school and college, completely outpassed and outplayed the Blue and White. Somewhat handicapped by the large floor, the Panther could not seem to find their men and start their team work, that had been so noticeable in the past few games. Halligan, a new member of the Vermont quintet, led the team with thirteen points to tie with Johnson of the Blue for the individual honors of the evening.

MIDDLEBURY 47—NORWICH 29

In a return game the Cadets again met defeat at the hands of the Blue and White on the home floor. The Blue and White displayed its best form of the season up to this time. Their passing and shooting was fast and accurate, and showed that the team was improving with each game played. It was some time before the team could get started, but after they got under way there was no stopping them, and the small lead with which the Norwich five had started off was soon overcome. With the score 30 to 12 at the half, Coach Hargreaves sent in a practically new team for the remainder of the game. Johnson, with fourteen points, led the Middlebury attack while Humeston played a good defensive game that held the visitors down to a small score.

SPRINGFIELD 37—MIDDLEBURY 25

Displaying a brand of basketball seldom seen in Middlebury, the highly rated Springfield College five lived up to its reputation and easily defeated the Blue which tried in vain to hold the visitors down. The first half was a real battle and the Panther held the Springfield quintet to a one-point lead. With the opening of the second period, however, James and Wagner, the stars of the visitors, soon found the basket a number of times, taking a lead which was never threatened by the Blue and White. The visitors displayed a dazzling passing attack and a perfect five-man defense that bewildered the Panthers. Johnson was high point man for the Blue while Captain James, the flashy Springfield forward, was high point man for the visitors and easily the star of the contest.

MIDDLEBURY 35—ST. MICHAEL'S 32

The return game with the Purple and Gold at Winooski almost proved disastrous for the Panther five. It was a hard and rough game, with the lead changing several times. Middlebury went into an early lead when Captain Sorensen scored twice from the foul line and later dropped a pretty, long shot from the center of the floor. St. Michael's came right back with a basket, and at half time the score stood 19 to 14 in favor of the Blue. In the second half the Michaelmen got off some spectacular long shots that seemed to spell defeat for the Blue. However, the teamwork of the Panther overcame the Purple and Middlebury was on the right end of the score when the final whistle blew. Captain Sorensen, with nineteen points, was high score man while the work of Humeston at center was outstanding.

MIDDLEBURY 40—MONTREAL A. A. A. 28

In a listless game, the outcome of which was never in doubt, the Blue and White quintet easily defeated the Montreal A. A. A. Washington's Birthday on the home floor. The visitors failed to show any aggressiveness and lacked the team play and knowledge of the game that other teams have shown on the gym surface. During the first half, the Montreal team held on doggedly and succeeded in holding the score down to 15 to 12. In the final period, however, the Panther showed its superiority and scored almost at will. Johnson led the scoring with a total of eighteen points.

MIDDLEBURY 44—VERMONT 33

In the last game of the season and of the State series, Middlebury evened up matters with the Vermonters in the best and fastest game of the year by pinning a long-awaited defeat on its ancient rival. It was a great game and one that brought joy to the hearts of the Middlebury followers. This game brought the Blue and White into a tie with the Green and Gold for the state series. The Catamounts showed up well in the opening session and led at the half 17 to 16. In the final period it was the Panther mauling the Catamount all the way. Prentice, captain and scoring ace for the Vermonters, was completely smothered in this half and did not score a point. The Blue took the lead shortly after the half opened and was never headed from that time on to the end. There were no individual stars and Captain Sorensen led his team to a victory that was a victory for the team as a whole. After the victory the Chapel bell pealed out the news over the hills, while the student body did justice to Vermont's defeat by celebrating with a huge bonfire.

Track, 1927

WITH the loss by graduation of Captain Schaefer in the hurdles, Potter and McLaughlin in the weights, and Kelley, Robinson, and Dodd in the distances, it looked as though the Blue and White track team was to start the season with a weak squad. However, as the season progressed, Coach Brown found valuable material in Schmidt and Davis in the weights and javelin, Bagley and Hoffnagle in the jumps, and Brooks and Fales in the hurdles. With these men in the field and Captain Roberts, Smith, Arnold, Eddy, Donald, letter men of the previous year, Middlebury had a team of which it might well be proud.

After suffering defeats at the hands of Williams and R. P. I., the Panther came back strong and defeated Hamilton by an overwhelming score. The last contest on the schedule was the state meet held at Northfield, at which the Blue and White took the state title from Vermont which had held it for two years.

R. P. I. 69—MIDDLEBURY 66

Troy, N. Y., April 30, 1927

In the opening meet of the season, Middlebury was defeated by R. P. I. by the narrow margin of three points. Although losing the meet, Middlebury succeeded in breaking three college records which is evidence of the keen competition that prevailed. R. P. I. was strong in the distances and field events, while the Panther excelled in the sprints. Smith won both of the latter, while Brooks, Donald, Davis, and Williams were first in the low hurdles, half mile, discus, and pole vault respectively.

Gil Smith Finishing 100 Yards in 9.9 at Williamstown

WILLIAMS 98½—MIDDLEBURY 36½

Williamstown, Mass., May 7, 1927

Middlebury's second defeat was at the hands of Williams College who had not been defeated for several years. Williams' power lay in her ability to get men in the second and third places in most events. Although Middlebury took as many first places in the track events as Williams, she failed to show up to form in the field and her reserve strength was weak. The number of records broken shows the spirit with which the Blue men entered the meet. The honors of the contest go to Smith and Bagley, the former breaking the college record in the 100-yard dash by covering the distance in nine and nine-tenths, and the latter breaking the high-jump record by clearing the bar at five feet, seven and seventy-five-hundredths inches.

Summary of Events

MIDDLEBURY 103—HAMILTON 23

Porter Field, May 14, 1927

Middlebury won an overwhelming victory over Hamilton, on Porter Field, in the only home meet of the season. The Blue won first places in all events, with the exception of the hurdles in which Fales was forced to take a second. Smith and Adams took first and second places in both dashes; Arnold won an easy mile, while Whiting jogged at a safe margin in the two-mile. Middlebury took all three places in the pole vault. Hoffnagle established a new college record in the high jump, going over the bar at five feet, eight inches.

NEW ENGLAND INTERCOLLEGIATES

Brunswick, Maine, May 21, 1927

A team of four men, Arnold, Burrows, Donald, and Smith, and Coach Brown represented Middlebury at the New England Intercollegiate Meet held in Brunswick, Maine, May 21. Smith was the only man to place, taking second place in the 220-yard dash. This was a good showing for a college of Middlebury's size, considering that she was competing with the best men in New England.

VERMONT INTERCOLLEGIATES

Sabine Field, Northfield, Vermont, May 28, 1927

On a slow and muddy track, the Blue and White garnered 63 points to run away with the state title, held previously by Vermont. The Green and Gold took second place with 37 points, while Norwich was forced to take a third place with 35 points.

As usual, Middlebury won all the running events with the exception of the hurdles, in which they took second and third places respectively.

Bagley broke the state high-jump record with a jump of 5 ft., 9⅛ inches. Smith did good time in the dashes considering the slow track, equaling the state record of 10.2 in the 100.

The times in most events were slow, because of the situation of the field on a high hill where a strong wind was blowing. This, together with a wet track, hampered the breaking of any other records which might have fallen on a better track.

Summary of Events

100-yard Dash—Won by Smith, M.; second, Adams, M.; third, McDonald, N. Time, 10.2 sec.

IN a season of three meets the Blue and White Harriers did not obtain a single victory, but, due to the green material with which Coach Brown had to work, the hard meets that were run, and the close scores with which the meets were lost, the college can well be satisfied with the work of the team. The first meet was run at Williamstown with Williams taking the Blue in a very close meet for the first defeat of the season. The following week the Panther met the strong R. P. I. team on the home course. R. P. I. had a fine, strong outfit and overcame the Blue, with three men finishing before Arnold and Donald crossed the line for the Blue. The last meet of the season, with Vermont, started off with hard luck for the Blue. Arnold, who had been running exceedingly well for the Panther, was taken ill the eve of the meet and was unable to accompany the team to Burlington. Had he run, the few points between victory and defeat might have been made, and a victory instead of a defeat gained for the Blue. The team gave a good account of themselves, however, and Vermont had to run to win.

The Freshmen also instituted Cross Country this year and held a meet with Vermont, in which they took the Yearling aggregation by a score of 26 to 29. The Frosh turned out two good men in Hanson and Thayer, and these two men will, no doubt, add to the strength of the Varsity next year.

WITH the loss of three men from the Varsity through graduation, things did not look so good for the tennis team at the beginning of the year. Coach Adams turned out a team, however, of which any college in the East might well be proud. From a schedule of fourteen games, thirteen were played, with nine victories, three defeats, and one tie. The Blue and White took the Vermont State Series and hence the State Title. The Panther defeated the Green and Gold twice, Norwich once, Hamilton and St. Stephen's twice, Pratt, Holy Cross, and Tufts, as well as tying R. P. I. The C. C. N. Y. game had to be cancelled because of rain, thus shortening the schedule by one game.

The Panther started its season right by defeating Vermont. Its next four games were played on a trip on which they lost to Dartmouth and Brown, the former being runner-up in the New England championship. After the Brown defeat, seven games were played before another defeat, at the hands of Worcester. R. P. I. succeeded in tying the net men in a hard battle on the opponent's courts. The Blue ended the season with a win over Norwich on the home courts, completely shutting out the Horsemen.

THE hockey team lived up to its reputation of the past few years and came through the season with but a single defeat, at the hands of Brown. With a veteran sextette back, the team was, nevertheless, handicapped in its practice by unfavorable weather conditions. In spite of this handicap, however, Captain Simmons led his team to victory in the season's opener against Amherst, by a score of two to one.

The following night the team traveled to Providence, where it lost its only game in a rough match with Brown, six to five. The next week, en route to West Point, the Blue took on the Rutland Athletic Association, defeating them by a large score and then finishing the trip by a win over the Cadets, three to nothing. Norwich was the next team to fall before the Blue, in a rather slow game due to soft ice. The State Title was clinched the following week with a victory over Vermont, nine to nothing, at Burlington. Clarkson, easily the best team seen here in years, invaded the home rink with a long list of victories behind them and the envious record of no defeats in a number of years, only to lose a fast and furious game, three to two. The season closed on Washington's Birthday with another victory over the Green and Gold. The work of Captain Simmons, Whittemore and Kelley was outstanding throughout the season. Between them these men accounted for all the goals scored through the entire season. Although the loss of Captain Simmons, Whittemore and Hill will be keenly felt, the Blue expects to be able to put another Championship team on the rink next season.

HARVEY HESSLER, the new Freshman Football coach from the University of Cincinnati, found himself confronted with a Freshman squad lacking weight and experience. Although there was a group of fifty men to chose from, the coach had to build up practically an entire team.

At the end of the second week of practice, the Panther Yearlings were matched with the fast and experienced Clark School team of Hanover, N. H. Despite injuries to several of the players, especially to Hagenbuckle who was forced to remain out for most of the remainder of the season, the cubs put up a game fight and came out at the weak end of a 19 to 6 score. The game at Hanover was the first football game for some of the players and, besides giving them a taste of experience, Coach Hessler drew up his plans for the rest of the season.

The second game of the Freshman schedule was against the Troy Conference Academy eleven at Middlebury, October 12. An easy victory by the score of 39 to 0 was the result of more experience and more practice. Hardy showed up as a good backfield man and was seconded by Paul and the quarterback, Dragotta. Although the game lacked pep, as might be judged by the score, it was a good exhibition of clean, straight football. Substitutions were frequent, about eighteen men getting into the game.

Making gains almost at will, the varsity seconds defeated the Freshmen in the third game, of October 22, by a score of 12 to 0. The Yearlings showed a strong come-back in the final period, smashing their way the entire length of the field only to be stopped by the ending of the contest. Due to injuries, Keenan, Hagenbuckle, and Greene were out of the play, considerably hampering the power of the Cub eleven. Foote and Hardy circled the ends for several good runs, but the Freshman defense was too weak to withhold the varsity seconds' drive.

The Vermont Catamount Yearlings came to Middlebury October 29 and when they left they took home the State Freshman Title by defeating the Middlebury Freshman team 13 to 6, in a hotly contested battle. Both teams played an aggressive type of football, with driving attacks and hard tackling. The Panther Cubs came onto the field and swept their opponents before them for the first few plays. Then they slackened their pace and before the end of the third period the U. V. M. Freshmen had tallied thirteen points. A rally was staged in the last quarter by the Middlebury aggregation which netted them a touchdown, and they were well on the way towards a second when the whistle called a halt, leaving the score 13 to 6.

The fifth game of the season with the Dartmouth College Freshmen was cancelled on account of the flood conditions which made it impossible for the team to reach Hanover.

Women's Athletic Association

NO apology is needed for the Athletic Association in the Women's College. A decided campaign for a bigger, livelier organization began in the fall of 1925. Within three years the program of increased activity has been carefully followed out. Mass participation in all athletics, with equal opportunity for every one, and the elimination, as far as possible, of the enjoyment of team privileges by a few who show unusual ability, and above all the love of the game itself, without regard to the winner and the loser, have been the slogans of the association.

The Council has endeavored to keep posted in regard to all new movements in other American colleges from the strictly amateur point of view. Middlebury has contributed material and cuts to the News Letter published by the Athletic Conference of American College Women. The college on the north side of the hill is a member of the United States Field Hockey Association.

Plans for a Play Day meet with the University of Vermont, to be held in the spring, with teams in all sports composed of Middlebury and Vermont students indiscriminately, competing against each other, promise to make an excellent exhibit if the weather man permits.

Rose Marchiano, '29, was the delegate sent to the Hockey Camp at Pocono, Pa., last fall. Without doubt the most noticeable improvement in any sport, both as to playing and organization, has been in hockey. Practices were held daily with student coaches officiating, new equipment was purchased, and the games were of a high quality in regard to strokes and plays

The toboggan slide, financed by the Association a year ago, was in excellent condition throughout the winter, but the mild weather prevented full enjoyment. For the first time in the history of Middlebury, a skating rink was provided for the exclusive use of the women on their side of the hill. Such a refuge proved most popular. The string of lights was financed by the Association. Skating and tobogganning were endorsed by the Physical Education department, and the Freshmen and Sophomore classes had one hour of thoroughly pleasurable exercise each week that the thermometer warranted.

Archery made its début in Middlebury during the spring of 1927. Not so much has been done in this sport as could be desired, but it is started and promises well.

Several changes have been made in the Constitution, the most important one being that only active members, those who have made ten points in a semester, are allowed to vote during that semester. Numerals in a particular sport are to be worn only during the college year when the championship in that sport is held by the particular class in question. This point has occasioned much discussion, but the Junior class have as yet no cause for worry. They hold every championship, with the exception of hockey in which the matches could not be playel off, due to bad weather, and they are confident that next year, too, will see many 1929's about the campus.

In February a club was started, to which all women who had won sweaters were eligible for membership. The charter members included six women, and since then one more has been added.

The Council voted to award a blazer each year to the Senior woman who has rendered most service to the Association. The committee to decide upon the award includes Miss Marion L. Young, Miss Eleanor S. Ross, the president of the Association, and one other member who is not on the Council. The blazer is of white flannel with the Middlebury seal in blue on the breast pocket.

Baseball

As Sophomores the class of 1929 repeated the performance of their Freshman year, and secured the baseball championship. The class of 1930 offered the only dangerous competition. Numerals were awarded to the following, who constitute the championship team for the year of 1927:

Irene Avery	Mary-Alice Drake	Evelyn Jones	Rose Marchiano
Elizabeth Cady	Muriel Harris	Virginia Ladd	Ruth Moore
Eula Cargill	Margaret Harworth	Sigrid Manty	Jean Renton

Sigrid Manty, '29	Rose Marchiano, '29	Eleanor Kocher, '30

Volley Ball

Volley ball, as played last spring, offered one more opportunity for those who would wear numerals, and 1929 did not fail to answer the challenge.

Tennis

Under the expert guidance of Florence Lockerby, '28, temporary head of tennis, a ladder tournament was played off in the fall. The best match of all was that played between Emeline Freeborn, '29, and Mlle. Elisabeth Boussus, graduate student who wields an especially clever racket. Interclass tennis matches to determine the college champion will be played during the spring months. Keen competition is expected, for there are many excellent players who seldom fail to occupy a court when the occasion permits. Florence Lockerby, '28, 1926 women's singles champion of the state of Vermont, will once again be in the running. Myrtle Bachelder, '30, should show up well, and evidence of superior playing among the Freshman class is not lacking.

Hiking Club

The Hiking Club, organized in 1926, has a membership of 51, ten of whom have this year received full credit. The Association awards points in proportion to the number of miles covered. Gretchen Taylor, '29, is the leader of the Club. An overnight hike to Lake Pleiad Lodge, on the Long Trail, last October was the longest trip made during the year. Woodcraft is studied with interest. Several snowshoe hikes have been held.

Basketball

Basketball is the sport of the year for the women. The two rounds of interclass games give ample chance to all who would be versed in the arts of Pete the Prophet. Especially good were the games between the Sophomores and the Juniors, by which the latter won 41 to 34 and the Frosh-Sophomore contest with victory going to the Sophomores by the margin of one point. The Juniors dropped only one game, and that was lost to the Freshmen by a single point.

The season closed with a basketball banquet, open to all those who had been out for the sport. Numerals were awarded to Eleanor Holden. The other players on the team who had received numerals the previous year were: Mary-Alice Drake, Mary Tudhope, Rose Marchiano, Sigrid Manty, Irene Avery, and Marjorie Sibley.

Hockey

The weather, running true to form, prevented the playing off of all the hockey games. The skating rink had to be set up before the ground froze, and so the hockey sticks were laid away for the winter. But not before those who had been watching the games had been well aware that hockey numerals, if any, would go to the Juniors. The Sophomores had an excellent team, and their two games with the Juniors were fast and well played.

The Women's "M" Club

The Women's "M" Club was organized in February, 1928. Emily Lobdell, '28, was elected president, and Rose Marchiano, '29, secretary and treasurer. The Club was organized for social purposes and in the hope of stimulating interest among the women students which would lead to an increase in membership.

Archery

Archery was begun in the spring of 1926. Katherine Burtis, '28, was elected head of this sport for the year 1927-28. Little was done beyond having open practices for all classes. The interest in archery is by no means slight, and during the next few months more time will be devoted to the development of skill in the art.

Horseback Riding

Riding has been enjoyed either independently or in conjunction with the work required by the Physical Education department, which gives one hour a week credit in meeting the required number of hours during the spring and fall months. Helen French, '28, has been instructor for two years.

Health Program Club

The Health Program Club was efficiently organized under Sylvia Westin, president, the first semester, and Clarissa Pierce, '30, the second. The membership approximated twenty. All women out for class teams were required to keep the training rules as set down in the Health Program throughout the entire season. The rules include one hour of exercise daily, a B average in posture, no eating between meals, wearing of suitable shoes, and an average of eight hours sleep each night.

Blazer Award

Adelma Hadley, '28, was the first recipient of what is to be known as the blazer award, which will be given each year to the Senior woman who, from the viewpoint of service and high character, has rendered the most to the Association.

Young Women's Christian Association

The Young Women's Christian Association endeavors to strengthen the religious life of its members. The World Fellowship, Silver Bay and Rural Groups furnish many opportunities for active work. The first group brings students in contact with situations beyond the local horizon of campus activities. Current problems at home and abroad are discussed with leaders in these fields. Many interesting lectures given by religious workers in foreign countries have been enjoyed by the organization. In addition, the World Fellowship Committee is financially responsible for the education of a young girl in Guadalajura, Mexico. The Silver Bay Club is enthusiastically planning for a conference to be held in June. The rural school presided over by Julia Austin, '27, receives careful attention from the Rural Discussion Group. The Big Sister plan whereby each freshman is made to feel at home in her new surroundings is one of the most important features of the association.

The Women's Debating Club was organized in the fall of 1926. Members of the faculty have lectured on topics of current interest in collegiate debating circles. Practice debates previous to the choice of a team to meet another college have been held. The club has sponsored the policy that no woman shall engage in more than one intercollegiate debate during the academic year, except in cases where expense is involved in trips to other colleges.

Wig and Pen is the directing body of the College Dramatic Club which was founded in 1922. At the same time its members follow one of two courses in play production under Professor Morse: the first is English 7 and 8; the second, more advanced, English 9 and 10. Each year those upper classmen who have shown unusual ability in dramatics are elected to membership. For the year 1927-1928, Wig and Pen has had a membership of 34. Two hundred and fifty undergraduates belong to the Dramatic Club, of whom considerably more than one half are active members. All members are privileged to sign up for those particular theatrical activities in which they are most interested, make-up, prompting, costumes, etc. Acting, of course, is most popular.

This past year Wig and Pen has put on two one-act plays every other Thursday evening. Wig and Pen members, under the supervision of Professor Morse, stage and direct the plays. The cast, as a rule, is drawn from the members of the Dramatic Club. Some of the most successful of these one-act plays have been: "The Little Fool," "The Bedroom Suite," "The Eligible Mr. Bangs," "The Medicine Show," "The Curtain Call," written by Professor Morse, and "The Kemble Heirloom," by Clarence P. Young, '28.

The Play House equipment has received several valuable additions during the year: a blue velvet stage curtain, an entirely new lighting system, and a projecting machine. The stock of costumes and properties has likewise been increased. The staging of the productions, as a whole, particularly the different sets, has shown a marked improvement over the standard maintained in previous years.

NINETEEN TWENTY-NINE

Junior Week, Class of 1928

THE class of 1928 created an ideal Junior Week for the college. Nothing was omitted in the whirl of excitement and care-free joy that lasted from Thursday noon until Saturday night. The tapping of the Waubanakees just before the Middlebury-Vermont baseball game, the Tea Dance at the gym, the first of its kind to be held in college, the Glee Club concert, fraternity stunts, Norwich game, the Prom, Frosh-Soph rope pull, Hamilton track meet, the play, and the interfraternity sing—all these hardly left time for the proverbial sigh of content. The printed page can add nothing to the charming memories of a lovely frock or shining hair. Suffice it to say that a never-to-be-forgotten week-end was thoroughly enjoyed.

Tea Dance

The class of 1928 established a precedent by officially opening Junior Week with a tea dance in McCullough Gymnasium. The class officers acted as the hosts of the faculty and students. About five hundred people went through the receiving line.

Junior Promenade

The Junior Promenade of the class of 1928, held in the Middlebury Inn, proved to be one of the most outstanding events in the social calendar. From nine until two, one hundred and twenty couples danced to music furnished by the Brunonians from Brown University.

The entire first floor of the Inn was given over for the Promenade, the music from the reception hall being reproduced by amplifiers in the dining room. The extraordinary setting and lighting effects made an attractive picture long to be remembered.

Governor and Mrs. John E. Weeks, President and Mrs. Paul D. Moody, Dean and Mrs. Edgar J. Wiley, Professor and Mrs. Harry H. Clark, Dean Eleanor S. Ross, and Mrs. Maud O. Mason were patrons and patronesses for the occasion.

Junior Play

"THE HAUNTED HOUSE"

A mystery play in three acts
By Owen Davis

"The Haunted House" was an admirable play for the occasion; its spiritualistic rappings, flesh-stirring clanking of chains and unearthly laughter kept the post-Prom audience wide-awake. The set was clever, the cast well chosen and the careful direction of Mervin W. McCutcheon, '27, was more than successful, judging by the applause of the audience.

Led by the Junior marshals, Rollins Furbush and Ethel Palmer, and escorted by the Junior girls carrying the daisy chain, the Senior class marched on to the grandstands located on lower campus for the class day exercises.

William Fales, the president of the class, gave an address of welcome. After the tree oration, President Moody made announcement of the following honors: Valedictory, Howard W. Cutler and Eleanor E. Manley; Salutatory, Carl J. Ellsworth and Rachel L. Spear. Eighteen men and women were granted cum laude honors, and Howard W. Cutler received magna cum laude.

Senior Play

"OUTWARD BOUND"

By Sutton Vane

Imagine finding yourself dead, in full possession of all your faculties, yet most assuredly dead—how would you feel? What would you do? "Outward Bound" dealt with this novel situation.

The cast, with remarkable effectiveness, brought out the potentialities of atmosphere and emotion in this startling play. Starring Senior members of the Wig and Pen, with the addition of three able Juniors, the production was finished in every detail. It was with keen regret that the underclassmen witnessed this final dramatic presentation of the class of 1927.

Senior Ball

The Senior Ball in McCullough Gymnasium was the last social activity of the class of 1927. It was an evening of pleasure, tinted with sadness, for the merrymakers knew that the hour of departure from the old college on the hill was drawing near. John Covallora and his orchestra of New Haven, Conn., furnished the music.

The patrons and patronesses were: President and Mrs. Paul D. Moody, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar J. Wiley, Professor and Mrs. Arthur M. Brown, Professor and Mrs. P. N. Swett, Dean Eleanor S. Ross, and Mrs. Maude O. Mason.

Senior Chapel Service

As a new morning dawned over the hills, the Seniors gathered in Chapel for their last service. After dancing the wee hours away, there was something sadly promising in that last hand clasp and sincere "Good Luck" with which they parted.

Sophomore Hop

The Sophomore Hop on Thanksgiving Eve was a delightful success. About ninety couples attended, the largest crowd in Middlebury history at any Soph Hop. Wittstein's Victor Recording Orchestra were fine musicians. A unique feature of the evening was the favor dance.

The patrons and patronesses were: President and Mrs. Paul D. Moody, Professor and Mrs. P. C. Voter, Miss Eleanor S. Ross, Miss Mary Rosevear, Dean Burt A. Hazeltine, and Mrs. Maude O. Mason.

The Scullions' Ball

The sixth annual Servitors' Ball in Hepburn Hunting Lodge, on the evening of January 30, was pronounced the best ever. Mr. A. Barton Hepburn's animal heads added to the unusual decorations. Dancing started at 4:30, with dinner served at 7:30 and dancing resumed until twelve. "Happy" Flint and his Black Panther Serenaders dispelled all cares with their catchy rhythms.

The patrons and patronesses were: President and Mrs. Paul D. Moody, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Wiley, Miss Mary Dutton, Miss Mary Bowles, and Mrs. Maude O. Mason.

Frosh Frolic

Once again the Black Panthers directed a Frosh Frolic, this time at the Middlebury Inn, February 4. True to its name, the Frolic was a gay occasion, in spite of the fact that only a week had elapsed since mid-years.

The patrons and patronesses were: President and Mrs. Paul D. Moody, Professor and Mrs. Julius S. Kingsley, Dean Burt A. Hazeltine, and Miss Mary Rosevear.

Glee Club Concert

The Junior Week Committee was most fortunate in securing Middlebury's championship Glee Club for their home concert. The concert was all that could be asked for and was a praise-worthy feature of the Junior Week Program.

Interfraternity Stunts

The usual fraternity stunts program took place in the Opera House. A most unique and amusing series of vaudeville, chorus and dramatic productions were presented. Reproducing the graduation exercises of Ripton College, the Chi Psi fraternity easily took the stunt cup. Second place was given to Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity, who mimicked a meeting of the Student Life Committee.

The Wisest King

The wise old king sat on his throne,
A jolly old fellow was he.
He rolled in wealth, and for his health
He traversed land and sea.
This wise old king at table sat
Every day at a certain hour.
His bread was white and feathery light,
Made from the best of flour.

The queen from far off Sheba came,
And a beautiful queen was she.
She heard of bread and rolls so light,
They feasted with mirth and glee.
He gave her many costly gifts
And presents quite a dower,
But best of all the precious gifts
Was a sack of "Wise King" flour.

Quality Service

Many People think of

THE VERMONT PRINTING COMPANY

as synonymous with

Fine Printing Service

These same people are our best advertisers, as shown by our many appreciative letters

"Consider this as a belated appreciation. The price was most satisfactory, of course, and the job was excellent. At Commencement time, not one of the returning alumni of the chapter failed to comment on the excellence of the magazine's printing, the careful arrangement of the printed matter, and of the striking superiority of the job over that given as in 1925."

"The advance copies of the new price list arrived yesterday and we want to compliment you on the appearance of the entire job and the service which you have given. You have met the time requirements quite satisfactorily and we appreciate very much the special effort which you made during January so the list would come out in good season."

Object ~

To inquire into the steps of manufacture taken to safeguard the uniformly high quality of Jenkins Valves.

Apparatus ~

A tour of inspection of Jenkins Bros. factory, Bridgeport, Conn.*

Procedure ~

Note that metal is analyzed by trained metallurgists before and after casting. Note that the design and construction are in accordance with sound engineering principles and practice. Note that research is being carried on constantly, that new features are being developed which are added to the product. Note that every completed valve is tested in actual operation and that only valves which make good in wide margin tests are allowed to leave the factory.

Conclusion ~

The steps of manufacture taken to safeguard the uniformly high quality of Jenkins Valves are sufficient to explain the confidence of hundreds of engineers who have made Jenkins Valves their standard valve selection.

An invitation is extended to engineering college students to visit the Jenkins factory singly or in groups. If notification be given in advance, Jenkins Bros. will be pleased to make arrangements for a tour of inspection.*

When You Interview Your First Employer

How will you impress him?

He will find in you the valuable qualities of youth: courage, enthusiasm, and new ideas. But will he find, added to these, the dependability and foresightedness that youth sometimes lacks?

Nothing inspires a prospective employer with such confidence as to find that a young man has already made provision for the future. A life insurance policy is a guaranty of the maturity of your viewpoint, and the possession of a policy will give you a better standing, not only in your employer's eyes but in your own.

An endowment policy maturing at 65, with the advantages offered by our fourth option, is one of the best forms of insurance for a young man, as it affords the same protection as a life policy at nearly the same cost—and the face of the policy is returned to him when the endowment is paid up.
